In this course you will learn what kinds of activities help students to learn English well. There are eight units of the course. In the first one you will get to know the course, the learning platform, your tutors and the other participants. In the next six units you will explore some factors we need to consider when choosing, using and adapting activities, such as interaction, motivation and classroom management.

We will also look at how to evaluate activities and adapt them or devise our own when necessary. Each of these units will also focus on activities related to a particular language area. Over the course you will build up a repertoire, or bank, of activities that you can use with your students and we will help you to organise and share this. In unit eight you will prepare for your final assessed project, which will help you put everything you have learnt into practice.

The course will extend the participant's understanding and critical awareness of:

- How to discover a range of activities for recycling vocabulary
- Solutions to some common challenges in speaking classes
- How we can help students interact more in speaking activities
- Some reasons why students may not want to write
- How to plan the stages and instructions for a warmer, filler or booster
- Some online tools for storing, organising and sharing activities
- How to devise and share a short reading or listening activity
- How to evaluate some receptive skills activities

The course is broken down into individual units and activities, forming a clear structure. Tasks will be interactive, involving voice chat, forums and community walls, and they will utilize a wide range of multimedia including images, audio files and videos.
