Description:

- For many people, childhood is a wonderful, carefree time that brings back fond memories. Friendship, toys, playground, crayons, games together. All these words can mean childhood. What words mean childhood for children of the 2000s?

Fashion and clothing:

Children in the 2000s were dressed in different clothes, but often they used to wear large sweaters and turtlenecks, they were popular among children and teenagers.

Plaid shirts, short cardigans, dresses, tights with a cat print, which were worn by a lot of children at that time and later. Tracksuits were the fashion for teenagers, but children were also dressed up in them.

Technology:

At that time, technologies were very different from modern ones and developed. But then the first phones, computers, tablets and consoles already appeared. Children, whose families didn't have money could play any games on a computer or console in a computer club for money.

Food (sweets):

What kind of sweets were loved by children, teenagers and even adults, which many are now very hard to find?

sweet bracelets

candy 5+, which were of different flavors, you couldn't guess exactly what flavor you'll get

do you remember Kuzya's sweet corn sticks?

sweets sourness

montpensier sweets in a metal jar

chewing gum, inside which there was sticker that many children collected

It was very interesting to find material for the presentation
and go back to the past,
so thank you for your attention!!

( I can share
yupi with you :) )
