Book title: The hound of the Baskervilles Author: Arthur Conan Doyle
My review: "The hound of the Baskervilles" is a detective story written by the world famous writer Arthur Conan Doyle. It is one of the stories about Sherlock Holmes. The basis of the story consists of two stories, shrouded in mysticism. Something awful is happening in the village of his patients, Charles Baskerville: that was the name of the dead man - a member of an old family. There were many legends about the family. The most famous of them was about a ghost creature that

Book title: David Copperfield.....
Author: Charles Dickens.....
My review: The family of David Copperfield was incomplete, because six months before his birth, his father died. His father's funeral had a difficult relationship, and she decided to meet her daughter-in-law only after the death of her nephew, and before the David's birth. Betsy Trot-wood was a woman in years, she already had an unsuccessful marriage behind her, so she hated all men, after the divorce she moved to live on the outskirts of the city.

My review: Miss Betsy was sure that a girl would certainly be born, she was ready to pass on all her life experience so that she would be protected from mistakes. She wanted to run her after herself. After she found whom she is interested, Helen Estlin meets her first childhood love. According to the plot of the book we'll see a whole life of Young Copper-
